SHIP names Patrick Bogan as Chief Information Officer

CARMEL – Patrick Bogan has been named as chief information officer of Senior Health Insurance Company of Pennsylvania (SHIP) effective June 18, 2012, announced president and chief executive officer Brian Wegner.

Bogan brings 20+ years of experience in complex business and IT engagements. Prior to joining the SHIP team, he worked for HealthFitness where he led the integration of people, processes and systems across multiple acquired organizations into one cohesive product offering. He is a graduate of Purdue University and received his bachelor's degree in computer information systems.

“Patrick is coming to us after leading a critical project for a large health insurance company involving the development of data mining and predictive analytics for the healthcare industry,” said Wegner. “Many of Patrick’s experiences from that role will directly benefit our company.”

As the demand for complex technology services continues to grow in the long term care industry, SHIP is at the forefront, providing high quality service to meet long term care policy commitments of policyholders.
